01 · WHO WE ARE

Occupy till I come.

Christ Extension Church Int'l is a global ministry. Our divine mandate is to bring holistic transformation to God's people through sound, inspiring and revelatory teaching from God's holy and infallible Word.

We want God's people to live productive, purposeful lives here on earth, aware that what we do here counts in the age to come. We act on our Lord's words in Luke 19:13. Our meetings equip and empower people to be relevant in every sphere of life, with Kingdom influence that lasts for generations, for God's glory.

Founded by
Pastor Emmanuel & Sheila Mbai

OUR MISSION

Raising a unique breed of people with the utmost value for God's presence, who have come to see and appreciate that everything about life begins, thrives and culminates in His presence.

OUR VISION

To become the church that Christ envisioned while on the cross, allowing Him to fully function, manifest Himself and prosper His pleasure through us here on earth.

02 · OUR FOUNDATION

Where our name comes from.

Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise Him; He has put Him to grief. When You make His soul an offering for sin, He shall see His seed, He shall prolong His days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in His hand.

ISAIAH 53:10

Seed	Extension	Prolong	Prosper
“I am Christ's seed.” We are the fruit of His offering.	“I am His extension.” This is our name, and it is drawn as the line that runs out from the cross.	“Prolonging His days.” His life continues through ours.	“Prospering His pleasure here on earth.” This is our tagline.

OUR VALUES

01 Unfeigned love

02 Faithfulness

03 Commitment

04 Integrity

05 Holistic growth

03 · THE LOGO

The cross at the centre.

01

The cross

Forms the “t” of Christ. Christ comes first in the name, held up by the cross.

02

The wordmark

A classic old-style serif in Ink Black. It feels timeless, steady and trustworthy.

03

The extension

The cross's stem turns and runs on as a line under “Extension Church”, carrying the gospel outward.

04

The tagline

“Prospering His pleasure on earth”, a handwritten promise drawn from Isaiah 53:10.

WORDMARK FONT	Baskerville Old Face, used only in the logo.
TAGLINE FONT	Rage Italic, used only in the logo.
ARTWORK	Always use the master vector files from Downloads. Never redraw, retype or rearrange the logo.

04 · CLEAR SPACE & SIZE

Room to breathe.

Keep text, images and page edges out of the space around the logo. The unit of measure is x, the height of the capital “E” in Extension.

CLEAR SPACE	At least 1*x* on every side, which is about 7% of the logo's width.
RULE OF THUMB	If in doubt, give it more space.

Full logo

Min. 50 mm print · 200 px screen. Below this size the tagline can't be read.

Without tagline

Min. 30 mm print · 120 px screen. Use it for small sizes only.

The Mark

Min. 30 mm print · 120 px screen, measured along the tail.

05 · LOGO VERSIONS

The right logo, every time.

Full colour on light backgrounds. All white on everything dark, red or photographic. Choose a background below and the guide shows the version to use.

WHITE

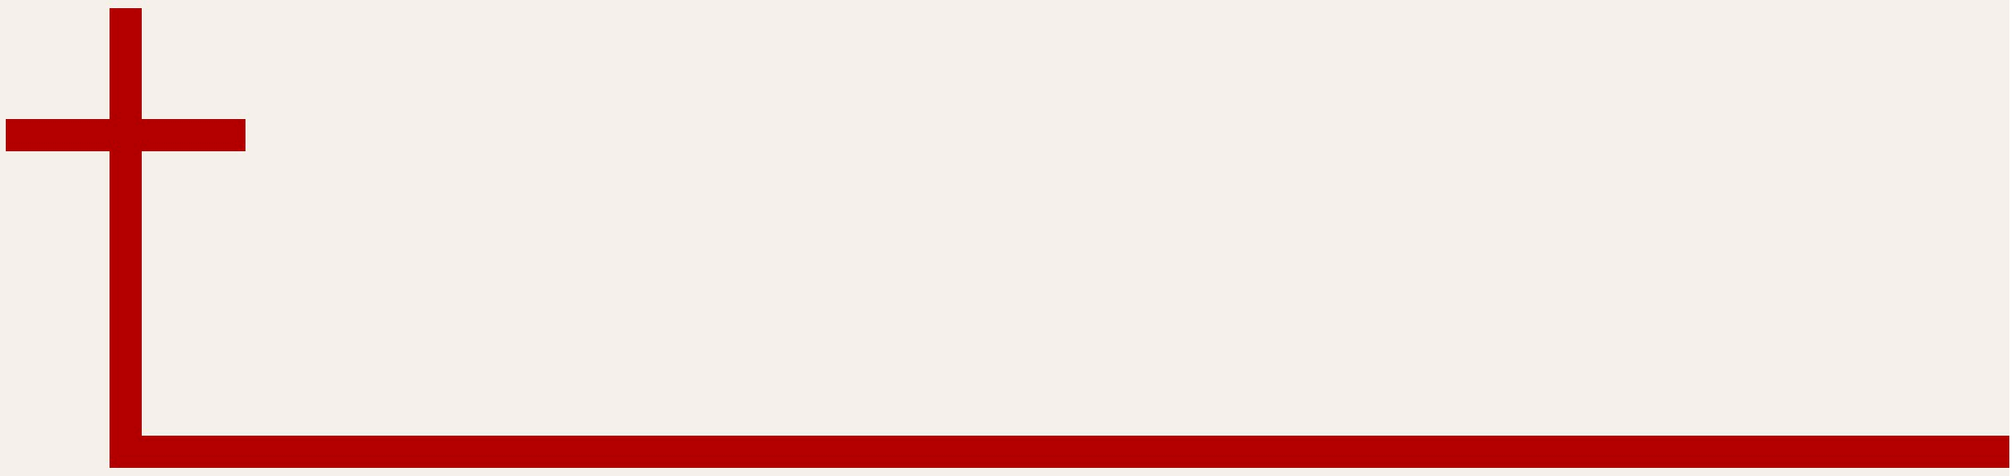

FULL COLOUR

- White — Full colour
- Parchment — Full colour
- Light photography — Full colour
- Cross Red — All white
- Ink Black — All white
- Dark photography — All white
- One-colour print — All black

The cross and its reach.

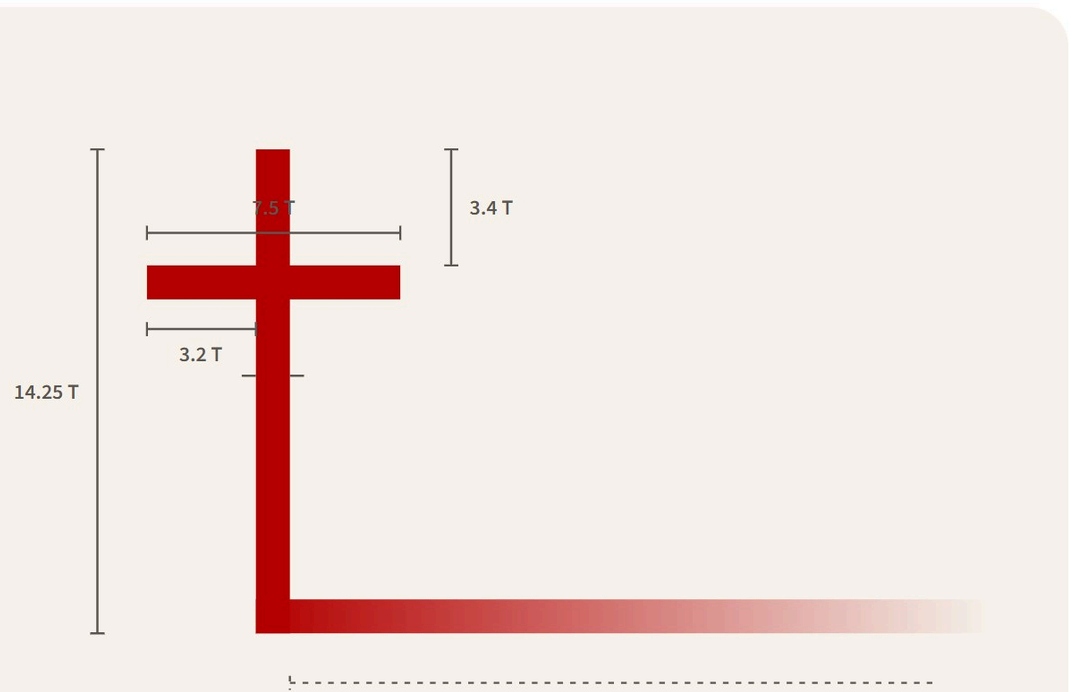

The mark is the “t” from the logo on its own: the cross, with its stem turning and running out into a long tail. It says Christ, extended without a single word.

Use it where the church is already named nearby, such as a profile, a stage screen or merchandise, and as the signature graphic that ties all our materials together.

Construction

Every part is measured in T, the thickness of the stroke. The crossbar is centred on the stem. The tail has no fixed length. It reaches as far as the layout allows.

Red on white: primary

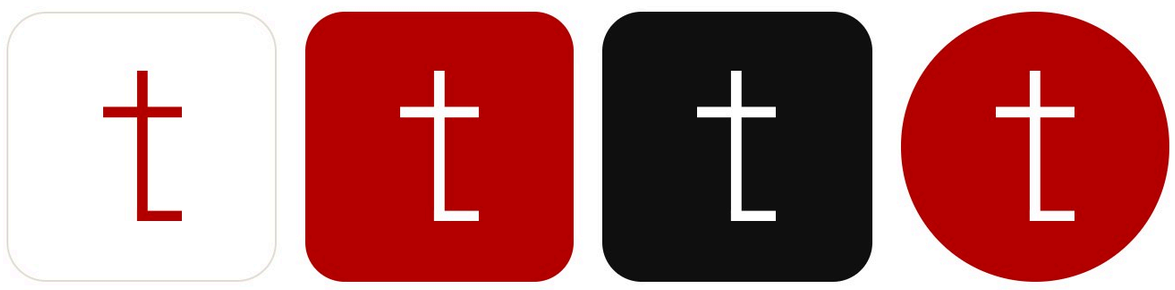

White on Cross Red

White on Ink Black

Square spaces

Profile pictures, browser tabs and app icons are square, so the full tail can't fit. In these spaces only, the tail stops in line with the end of the crossbar.

07 · THE EXTENSION LINE

Words that stand on the line.

In the logo, “Extension Church” stands on the line that runs out from the cross. We use the same move everywhere: a title, a name or a date standing on the extension line, with the line running out to the edge. You've seen it at the top of every chapter in this book.

Headlines: the title stands on the line, and the line runs to the edge.

Closing lines: the last thing on a post, slide or page.

Because I am here,
He is here.

Always from the cross

The line always starts at the cross. It is never a loose underline on its own.

Always to the edge

Let the tail run off the page or screen. Don't stop it halfway or curve it.

One per layout

Use it once per page, slide or post. Used more often, it stops meaning anything.

Please don't.

Stretch or squash it

Always scale in proportion.

Recolour it

Only use the approved versions.

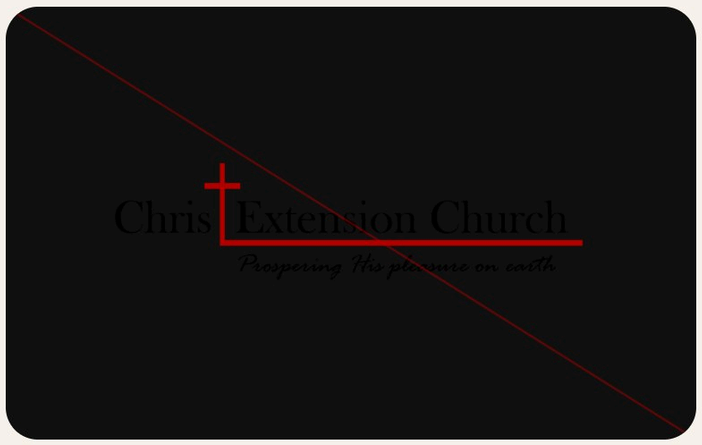

Rotate or tilt it

The cross always stands upright.

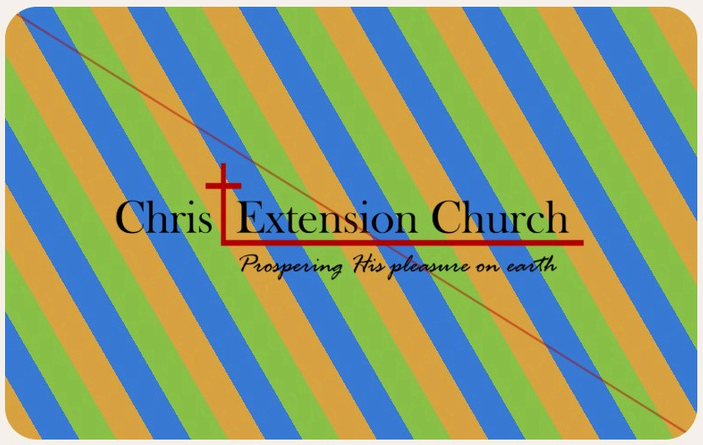

Add effects

No shadows, glows, outlines or bevels.

Use full colour on dark

Use the all-white version.

Place it on busy backgrounds

It has to stay readable.

09 · COLOUR

Red, black and plenty of light.

Cross Red comes straight from the logo. Save it for the cross, for calls to action, and for moments that matter. Click any code to copy it.

PRIMARY

Cross Red

The colour of the cross. It is used sparingly, so it always means something.

Colour balance

Most layouts are mostly light, with Ink for weight and a small amount of red for meaning.

*The Pantone match is approximate. Proof against a Pantone guide before ordering signage or merchandise.

Classic voice, clear reading.

The logo's own fonts, Baskerville Old Face and Rage Italic, are reserved for the logo. For everything else, EB Garamond continues the wordmark's classic serif voice. Use it for headings, scripture and reflection. Source Sans 3 handles anything that needs to be read quickly, such as notices, times and directions. Both are free on Google Fonts. In Word documents, use Garamond and Calibri.

Words that welcome.

We speak the way a good host greets a guest at the door: warmly and plainly, and rooted in the Word. We always capitalise He, His and Him when we refer to God.

Welcoming

Write for the first-time visitor. Explain, don't assume.

Not cliquey or full of jargon

Revelatory

Teach from the Word, and let scripture carry the weight.

OUR NAME	“Christ Extension Church Int'l” in formal documents, and “Christ Extension Church” everywhere else. Write it in full the first time and use “CEC” after that, but never on its own in a headline.
OUR TAGLINE	“Prospering His pleasure on earth”, from Isaiah 53:10, with a capital H and no full stop.

13 · ON SCREEN & OUTDOOR

From the phone to the roadside.

On screen and outdoors, the same system holds: warm parchment space, Garamond headlines, Cross Red reserved for the one thing to do next, and the cross leading the eye.

APP	Use Parchment backgrounds and Garamond headlines. Cross Red is for primary buttons, the active tab and play controls only, so there's one red action per screen.
BILLBOARDS	Keep the headline to five words or fewer, readable in five seconds. Use the logo at full size, with the extension line starting from the cross.
IMAGERY	Use warm, natural light. Real people worshipping, or the lamb as a symbol of the offering in Isaiah 53. Never cold, dark or staged.

Carried into the world.

Every mug, cap and lanyard carries the name a little further. Apply the logo with the same care as on paper: full colour on light materials, all white on red and black.

PRINTING	Use the vector files (SVG or PDF) from Downloads, and ask suppliers for a printed proof matched to Cross Red.
EMBROIDERY	On caps and polos, keep the logo at least 60 mm wide so the tagline stitches cleanly. Narrower than that, use the logo without the tagline.
SMALL ITEMS	For pins, buttons and charms, use the mark alone.
